Vizo Financial CEO Will Bid Farewell to Corporate in June 2021

Greensboro, N.C. (March 18, 2021) – Vizo Financial Corporate Credit Union’s CEO, Jay Murray, will be ending his tenure with the organization in June of this year. Murray, who has been with the Corporate for nearly 30 years, has decided to devote more time to family and personal interests.

“This past year has really brought the importance of family and self-care into the limelight, so the time has come for me to step down from my leadership position at Vizo Financial and spend my time doing the things I love most – being with my wife and daughters, traveling and pursuing some of my interests in education, music and some other hobbies.” said Murray. “My time with the Corporate is something I will always treasure, and I’m so proud to say I was part of this incredible movement that puts people and community first. Credit unions will always have a special place in my heart.”

Since the establishment of Vizo Financial in 2016, Murray has shared leadership responsibilities alongside the Corporate’s president, David Brehmer. The board of directors has selected Brehmer to become the president and CEO of Vizo Financial effective June 1, 2021. This decision assures continuity in the top leadership position of Vizo Financial and will result in a seamless transition within the organization.

“We always knew the day would come when one of us would leave the organization before the other. Our arrangement to share the leadership role was unique, and it was an honor to work so closely with Jay over the past several years,” said Brehmer. “Even before we came together to create Vizo Financial, Jay and I had discussed our collaborative efforts on many occasions, and what we were able to accomplish has exceeded my expectations. I wish Jay the best of luck in his future pursuits.”

Vizo Financial is well-positioned for continued growth, and has a well-defined strategic plan for 2021 and beyond. In addition, the strong leadership team at Vizo Financial is ready to continue their mission of driving credit union members’ success.

The Corporate extends its best wishes to Murray for a happy and fulfilling next chapter!
