Female voice: And did we mention, it's so easy, it'll have your members saying holy moly...give me PayMōli!

Female voice: It all starts by downloading the app. From there, they just enter their credit union account information. This is where the money will come from when they make payments – and it ensures the money stays within your institution! How's that for awesome?

Female voice: Next, they select a person to pay from their already established list, or enter a new recipient's information. All that's left to do is enter the payment information – an amount, of course, and a note if they wish – and click Pay Now. See, easy right?

Female voice: The benefits to your credit union are many, and the convenience to your members is undeniable.

Everette: Security. There's too many people out there that know that everybody is working from home and are trying to take advantage of it.

Rodney: Everette Beach...is that east coast or west coast?

Everette:Definitely east coast.

Rodney: There ya have it folks, Everette Beach. Doing his part to make sure our information technology systems are running properly during this pandemic. Until next time, this is Rodney May with Around the Corporate.
